

WORKING TO SERVE YOU BETTER

Building the Best

The Town's Buildings Department has climbed a steep hill over the past several years.

Today, permits and certificates are being issued in record numbers with all applications receiving thorough and professional inspection and oversight. We know that delays, additional costs, and the need for new personnel created confusion and frustration to many in our community. The Town faced the challenge head on and though we regret the difficulties along the way, we are now at the point where consistency, accountability, professionalism and integrity are the rule of thumb — on every application, every day.

Safety First

The safety of Town residents is the number one concern throughout the inspection process.

Back on Track

Leading industry professionals are impressed with North Hempstead's reform effort.

Public Conference

Town to host Buildings Department Conference on April 30 to gather input and assess improvements already made.

New Approach

The Buildings Department looks toward working with residents to move through the application process efficiently.

"We've come a long way and the change is real. We know it has been hard for many, but we are now confident that this department is working at the highest levels of professionalism, integrity, and consistency."

The Buildings Department of the Future is Already Here

With old laws being amended and costly rules being modified, the Town is on its way to re-crafting its Buildings Department in order to meet the expectations of the community while maintaining the codes.

The Town has hired additional plans examiners and buildings inspectors as well as clerical staff to assist in administrative functions. The Buildings Department will work to honor the code while respecting the need for homeowners and businesses to get through the process as expeditiously as possible.

Buildings Department
Commissioner

"For the past four years, the Buildings Department has dedicated itself to the safety of both our residents and visitors by requiring compliance with applicable State and local codes. I believe the Department is on the right path. We continue to develop strategies to provide our community with a professional, courteous and efficient process."
